Hot, Dry Weather and Drought of the Last Month Result in Low Yields.

Feedstuffs, Oats and Hay Are Heaviest Hit Potatoes Unusually Short.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Hot, dry weather and drought has played something akin to havoc with the crop condition during the last month," was the statement made today by Professor N. C. Murray, acting chief of the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture after the announcement of the July report on grain and produce.

"The report," said Professor Murray, "reflects the rather serious effects of the drought in June, most of the important crops showing a condition which yields below last year and below recent average yields."

"Feedstuffs, oats and hay, seem to have been hardest hit. Less than two-thirds of a normal crop of hay is expected and the oats crop probably will be more than 25 per cent less than last year's crop, and about 12 per cent less than the average for the last five years."

"The corn acreage is the largest ever recorded, but the condition of the crop is about 7 per cent below the average. That indicates a production of approximately 5 per cent less than last year's record crop, but nearly 5 per cent more than the average production in the last five years. The condition of the corn crop on July 1, however, was critical."

Potatoes Unusually Scarce. "The potato crop promises to be unusually short. The acreage has fallen off, probably on account of unsatisfactory prices last year, and the condition of the crop now is lower than at any time on July 1 in the last 22 years. Almost a sensational advance in the price of potatoes has been made during the last month. The average price on July 1 was 96.3 cents a bushel."

"Owing to the difficulty in the setting out of tobacco plants the acreage has been reduced 28 per cent from that of last year. The low condition with the shortage of acreage have combined to reduce the indications to a total production of 63.3 per cent of last year's crop, or 7.7 per cent of the average for the last five years."

"Notwithstanding the drought, the wheat crop, both spring and winter, will be well up to the average in total production. It is scarcely likely that the amount of wheat in bushels will vary a great deal from the average of the last five years."

"On general crop conditions the section of the country which appears to have been hit the hardest by the hot weather and the drought is the tier of states comprising South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma."

Approximate Total Yield.

The approximate total yield of the important farm crops of the United States, as indicated by the condition of the crops on July 1, and estimated by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture upon the ratio of the average condition on that

SEN. J. M. MURRAY'S APPLICATION

Judge Owen Says City Council Has Absolute Power in Revocation of Liquor Licenses.

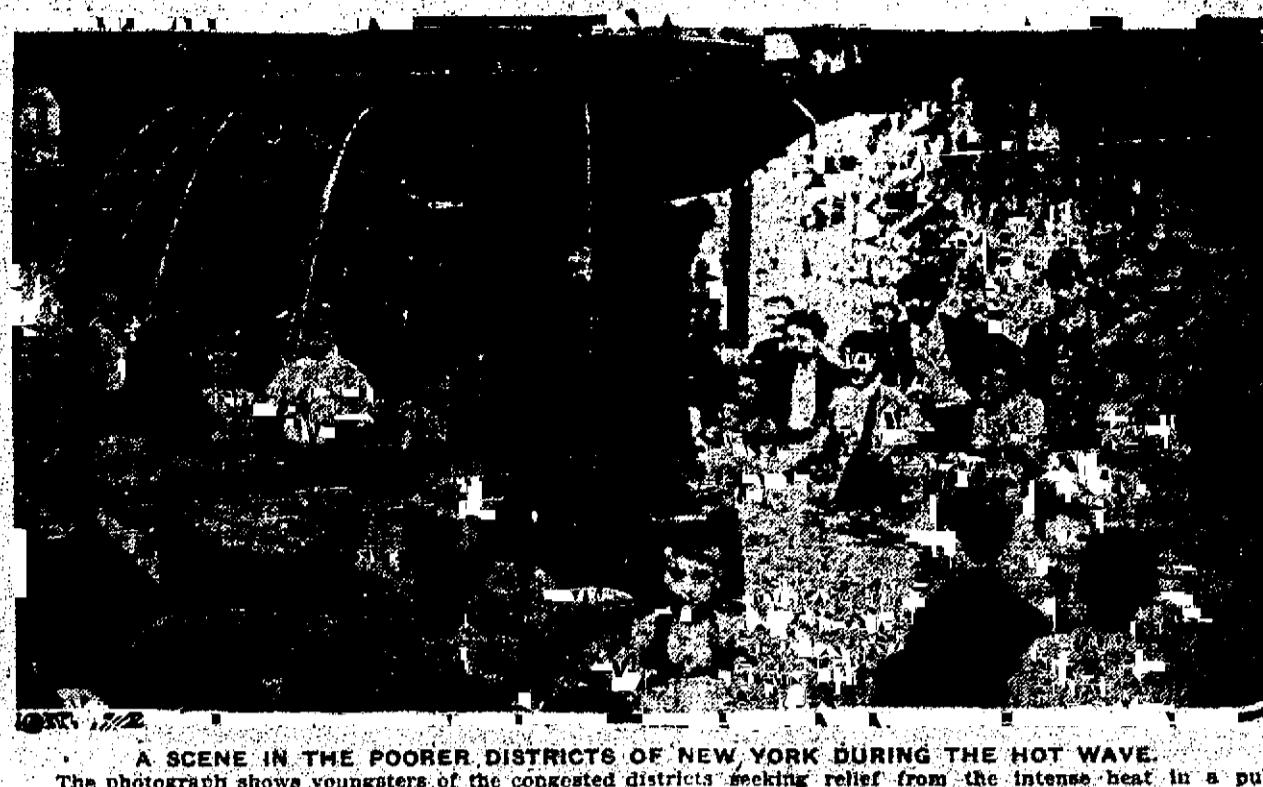

Holding that the City Council under the ordinance has absolute power in the revocation of liquor licenses, District Judge Owen yesterday denied the application of John Leonard, manager of the Spaulding hotel, for a writ of certiorari to require the Council to certify its reasons for taking away the Spaulding license.

In his decision, Judge Owen held that the ordinance which was drawn in accord with the statutes and the state constitution, gave the Council the right to withdraw any license without cause by returning the unearned part of the license fee.

Judge Owen also held that the liquor traffic in an "unlawful act" made legal by an ordinance in each of the several communities where liquor is sold. It is therefore within the police right of the community to prescribe how and when liquor may be sold, and the community may assume any powers it sees fit in regulation of the traffic.

In the Leonard case, Owen ruled that the plaintiff was fully content with the ordinance when he obtained the license, and that therefore no injury was done by its revocation.

Following the absence of Roscoe P. Garrison, attorney for the plaintiff, no appeal has been perfected in the case.

SEN. J. M. MURRAY'S APPLICATION FOR RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT IS DENIED BY SENATE.

Well-Known Persons Deliver Addresses Dr. N. M. Butler, Director, Resigns.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—The acceptance of the resignation of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler from the board of directors of the National Educational association and the formal opening of the forty-ninth annual convention of the association at the Greek theater in Berkeley marked the activities of the delegates assembled in San Francisco today.

Contrary to all expectations, the two men pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Sheafor in Kiowa yesterday afternoon. The action was evidently taken on the advice of the two attorneys for the defense in order that an appeal might be taken if the death penalty is inflicted. With the bravado that has never but once deserted him, King entered his plea with a harsh voice. Fields stood mute and the court instructed his attorney to enter a plea of not guilty.

When the men asserted that they were without means, Judge Sheafor appointed Clyde L. Starrett of this city to defend Fields and Attorney C. L. Dickerson of Denver to represent King.

Jury Secured Quickly.

The jury was secured without difficulty, the 12 men asserting that they had formed no opinion on the case and were not against the death penalty.

District Attorney M. W. Purcell, for the state, in the King trial, put four witnesses on the stand—John Fields, the half-witted lad whose confession implicated his partner, Deputy Sheriff S. D. Burns of this city, and Sheriff Paul Jones of Elbert county, to whom King confessed to the murder of Jackson, and Dr. J. S. Rogers, coroner of Elbert county.

Fields described in his innocent childlike way how the murder was committed, omitting not the slightest detail. Then Sheriff Jones and Deputy Sheriff Paul Jones of Elbert county, to whom King confessed to the murder of Jackson, and Dr. J. S. Rogers, coroner of Elbert county.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The story of a vanishing letter, both added and signed "Dick," from Richard S. Ryan, of New York, to Richard A. Ballinger, then Secretary of the Interior purporting to show that Charles P. Taft had influenced his brother, President Taft, to forward the alleged attempt of the Guggenheim interests to acquire "Controller Bay, the only outlet for large coal fields in southern Alaska, figure in a congressional inquiry began today.

The testimony before the House committee on expenditures in the interior department and statements from the White House and from Charles P. Taft's offices failed to lift the mystery enshrouding the alleged letter. Commissioner DeMint of the general land office the only witness testified he knew nothing of it and he would not necessarily know if its existence and such a letter was not recalled in any other quarter.

The letter was not to be found in the files, though Miss M. F. Abbott, a newspaper writer, who testified later, says she copied such a document from the official files. President Taft has expressed confidence that his brother never communicated with him on the subject either orally or in writing.

Miss Abbott already subpoenaed as a witness, probably will appear before the committee Wednesday. Commissioner DeMint testified that some time between the framing of the first draft and that of the final order opening the Controller Bay lands to entry the usual provision was eliminated which would have required 60 days' notice from anyone intending to file on the lands. He did not know who struck it out and did not attach much importance or mystery to that point, but replying to questions, said the effect of the omission would be to give advantage to those on the ground who happened to know of the order.

It was explained later that the order was given to the press at the time.

Among the witnesses the committee will summon Aspinwall Brown, a Seattle newspaper man, who was private secretary to Secretary Ballinger and who, according to Miss Abbott, was present when she saw the alleged Ryan-Ballinger letter.

HESUMES HEARING OF MINERS' CONTEMPT CASES

DENVER, July 10.—The hearing of the contempt cases against the 18 Lafayette miners, who are charged with having violated an injunction issued in favor of the Northern Coal and Coke company by Judge Greeley W. Whitford of the district court, was resumed again this morning.

Deaths from sunstroke, 200.

Deaths from same cause during corresponding week in 1910, 33.

The total deaths for the week were 1,758 against 1,473 for the corresponding week of 1910.

TODAY 18 deaths were reported up to 11 p. m., with 200 prostrations.

DR. V. L. PORTER, a physician of Lafayette, who was called on June 18 to attend George Wilson and John Craft, two nonunion miners employed by the Simonson mine was the only witness called this morning. He stated that Craft was badly beaten; that his face was scalded and cut and that he was covered with blood. The man were beaten by strikers, according to the car.

Mr. Porter told of the posting of the induction notices in Lafayette. He stated that the notice in the postoffice, which several of the miners claimed they had never seen, was still there and had recently been seen by him.

In reply to questions from Attorney Blood, he said that in his opinion every man, woman and child of Lafayette knew of the injunction. Because of the heavy criminal docket, it was adjourned this morning to finish the hearing in the civil court. Judge Whitford of the district court will sit in the criminal court during the absence of Judge Whitford.

Upon the negro's appearance on the city's outskirts, the crowd made a rush as if to take the prisoner from his custodians, but the police and deputies drove the mob back quickly and soon had the negro landed safely in jail.

Later tonight, Mickens was spirited away to the county jail at Canton, for safekeeping.

Bud Wise, arrested yesterday near the Santa Fe depot on a charge of disturbance, will have a hearing in Justice Dunnington's court Thursday.

The Denver and Rio Grande railroad filed a motion in the district court yesterday for a new trial of the suit brought by Mabel Lisenby. In the suit, which was decided in the district court last week, Mrs. Lisenby was awarded $1,000 damages for the death of her husband, Aleck Lisenby.

Bird Griffith Seyffert filed suit for divorce from Otto W. Seyffert yesterday in the county court. Mrs. Seyffert alleges cruelty and desertion, and prays for the custody of their minor child and for permanent alimony. The couple were married in this city October 30, 1901.

Attorney Carl Zittel is presiding as police magistrate in the absence of Clyde L. Starrett, who is in Elbert county attending the King-Fields murder trial at Kiowa.

John Howard and Will Davenport, each aged about 15 years, who were arrested by the police yesterday on a charge of stealing a watch from John Hillmer, 419 West, Kiowa street, will be given a hearing in juvenile court today.

H. E. Miller, arrested on a charge of attempting to pass a fraudulent check on B. G. Robbins, Saturday night, will be tried in justice court today. The check, which Miller alleges was given him for work, was signed with the name of J. L. Rood.

John and James Price, colored, will be tried July 20 in Justice Dunnington's court on a charge of contributing to the juvenile delinquency of Nettie Lollis.

Owing to the absence of Deputy District Attorney M. W. Purcell, no information was filed in the district court yesterday against W. J. Moore, held by the coroner's jury for the killing of Thomas McGrath.

A motion for the retrial of the damage suit of Ira J. Morse against the Colorado and Southern railway was filed in the district court yesterday.

REV. W. E. BENNETT TO CONTINUE AS PASTOR

At the fourth quarterly conference of St. Paul's M. E. church last night, the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Bennett, was unanimously asked to remain for the ensuing year. The trustees and stewards were practically all re-elected, and reports showed the church to be in excellent shape. In the last year about 100 new members have been admitted.

A Home-Recipe Far
Removing Wrinkles

(From Woman's National Journal).

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age?

Few women, however, know what to do to effectively rid themselves of wrinkles or sagging. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory and most of them are very expensive.

But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

Buy an ounce of powdered salsolite at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use it as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and snug-like.

John and James Price, colored, will be tried July 20 in Justice Dunnington's court on a charge of contributing to the juvenile delinquency of Nettie Lollis.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The refusal of Judge Owen of the District Court yesterday to grant the application of J. C. Leonard for a writ of certiorari is the most important event in liquor litigation since the adoption of the ordinance. It will be remembered that several weeks ago the Council revoked the liquor license which had been granted to Leonard as manager of the Spaulding Hotel. He thereupon asked for a writ of certiorari, which, if granted, would have thrown the case into the District Court, necessitating probably a long trial and argument. The chances are that he would have been beaten anyway, but Judge Owen yesterday decided that Leonard had no right to ask the Court to review the Council's action.

He held that under the ordinance and the Charter ample discretion is vested in the Council by the people to grant or withhold licenses, and that whoever receives a license takes it subject to the conditions and requirements imposed by the ordinance. The licensee in this case was legally aware of these conditions, and merely because he had paid money for the license could not prevent the Council from revoking it whenever in its judgment such action was justifiable. Inasmuch as the ordinance provides for the return of the unearned portion of the fee, the licensee suffered no injury. He knew what he was doing and he knew what the license authorized him to do, and if he did not live up to its requirements the Council had a perfect right to revoke and cancel the license. He could not claim that he was suffering pecuniary damage if he invested money by faith of the license, because in law he was bound to follow out the absolute requirements of the ordinance, and had submitted himself to the will of the Council as expressed in the ordinance voted by the people.

We have always believed that the problem of regulating the sale of liquor in Colorado Springs would be comparatively simple under an ordinance "with teeth in it," that is, one which, while just and reasonable, would yet contain such severe restrictions and penalties that the licensee could not afford to violate it. Last spring we urged the adoption of the present ordinance on the ground that it amply fulfilled these requirements, and its present workings fully justify the claims then made for it. There is not a licensee in Colorado Springs today who has not a wholesome fear of and respect for the liquor ordinance. All of them may not like it, but just the same they know that it is a dangerous thing to fool with, and they are not taking any chances.

Judge Owen's decision sustains one of the most vital provisions in the measure, that is, the one which empowers the Council to revoke licenses at its discretion, with or without cause. Without this provision the ordinance would be far less effective, for there would be the same old difficulty of procuring the incontrovertible evidence on which conviction can be obtained in court. It is highly probable that if it were not for this provision, the Spaulding liquor resort would still be running wide open and some other licensees would be violating the law flagrantly.

But here is a case in which the members of the Council were convinced that the licensee was abusing the privilege granted him, and that was enough. No further evidence was necessary, no trial in court, no long delays while resourceful lawyers quibbled over technicalities. The Council simply revoked the license and put an end to the whole matter. It is a pity that the same simple, straightforward procedure cannot be applied in a multitude of other cases which keep the courts busy.

The effect of Judge Owen's decision will be to put a stop to any further efforts to defeat this provision of the ordinance by resort to the courts. Disregarding petty technicalities, he went to the very heart of the matter with unerring precision and rendered an opinion which will be immensely valuable in heightening respect for the law. It is apparent that at last we have a measure which is proving really effective in regulating the sale of liquor in Colorado Springs.

MUNICIPAL HOUSECLEANING.

TWO weeks ago Honolulu had a clean-up day, with such satisfactory results that one of its newspapers devotes two pages to pictures and descriptions of the event. Apparently, conditions had become so bad that it was a case of clear house or move, and as it is a pretty hard matter to move an entire city, Honolulu decided to move itself to a bath. The city was organized by districts, and hundreds of wagon loads of refuse of every kind were hauled to a dumping-ground and burned.

The large oriental and native elements in Honolulu are not noted for their cleanliness, and sanitary conditions in the poorer quarters of the city are said to have been indescribable. But when the municipal housecleaners got to work nothing was spared, in addition to the usual varieties of rubbish and garbage, they hauled away and burned even mattresses and beds. The thoroughness of the job may be judged from a statement that by three o'clock in the afternoon 550 wagon loads of trash had been carted away from one division alone.

Doubtless Honolulu is a beautiful and attractive city, but unless this account is overdrawn, it must have been the dirtiest place in the Western Hemisphere, and it is not surprising to learn that it recently had an outbreak of Asiatic cholera. Nevertheless, a thorough housecleaning is a mighty good thing for any city to undertake, however clean it may believe itself to be. The quantity of rubbish of all sorts that can be brought to light around the average residence premises is amazing, and if everybody cleans up on the same day the results are better than when the effort is sporadic.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

A REPORT.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sometime ago when we first started soliciting funds for the proposed tuberculosis sanatorium for colored people, we promised to give to the public quarterly reports, the first one to appear not later than July 30. At that time we expected to be able to secure a board of trustees to oversee the management and direct the expenditure of funds solicited. It took much longer than expected to secure the said board and, wishing the public to be satisfied that the money they were giving was placed in safe hands, we ceased soliciting until we had organized a trustee-board satisfactory to the public.

We now have such a board organized and will announce their names through the press within a very few days and very soon after will issue our first quarterly report. Hoping this explanation will be satisfactory to all concerned, I remain,

I. H. BRATTON, Solicitor.

Colorado Springs, July 10.

FROM OTHER PENS

SELF-PRESERVATION.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The State Bar association of Iowa, in session at Oskaloosa, has refused to accept a recommendation by Supreme Justice Horace E. Deemer that the legislature be urged to enact a statute providing that no judgment shall be set aside, case re-ferred, or new trial granted on a mere technical error, misdirection of jury, improper admission or rejection of evidence or error in pleading or procedure, unless the substantial rights of litigants are injuriously affected.

And why not? It is all very well for a jurist snuggled in on the state supreme bench to consider the substantial rights of litigants the only issue in a lawsuit, but his former colleagues who are still practicing their profession would remind him that they also have some substantial rights that require to be safeguarded. If this recommendation were to be adopted by the legislature it would so simplify and expedite litigation that half of the lawyers of Iowa would have to seek some other occupation to earn a living.

TO KEEP THE CITY CLEAN.

From the Troy Press:

Recent years have witnessed movements upon the part of citizens and officials in many municipalities to secure better sanitary conditions. The assembling of a large number of persons in a restricted area inevitably creates problems involving the health of the community, and the proper solution of which requires constant and intelligent attention. Civic uplift should be both an ideal and a practice. Among the cities whose citizens recently took hold of this matter is New Britain, Conn., and a committee there issued a series of recommendations which may well commend themselves to the inhabitants of other municipalities. One of their tracts was entitled: "What You Can Do to Help Make New Britain a Clean City," and reads:

Take away all the ashes and dirt from your back yard immediately. Send your rubbish to the dumpings ground.

Clean out your cellars, stables and sheds. Whitewash your cellar walls.

Burn all rubbish that will burn. Clean your vacant lots and alleys.

Avoid mixing ashes and garbage. This is against the law. You may be fined five dollars.

Refrain from throwing old paper, banana or orange skins into streets.

Plant some grass and flower seeds to make your home beautiful. Every house should have a little green grass and a few trees.

When you have cleaned up for Easter, keep your yard clean all the time.

Dusty yards cause flies, sickness, death.

Old tin cans hold water; water breeds mosquitoes.

Rotten garbage makes bad air, bad air makes weak bodies, weak bodies make big doctor's bills.

THE POLITICAL POWER OF GOLD.

From the New York Evening Post:

Unofficial statistics are said to disclose half a million golfers in the United States, or more than twice the number of five years ago. How much of this increase is due to the President's devotion to the game the experts do not attempt to say. It would be equally rash to predict that it is any large part of his recent growth in popularity, and even yet the golf vote is not of such dimensions as to warrant reliance upon it as a deciding factor in a national nominating convention or at an election. Nevertheless, it is said to be easy to underrate the political significance of the figures. If two hundred and fifty thousand persons are playing golf today who were not playing it a few years ago, there must be at least a million to whom their joys and sorrows have become familiar if not altogether intelligible. Now, the basic principle of political association is likeness or sympathies. There must be myriads of voters who do not see just what all the bother of reciprocity is about, but who have been made capable since Mr. Taft went into the White House of sharing the happiness that results from a good stroke, and, in no less degree, the grief that follows a poor one. And the world is still governed by imagination; even elections are often carried—in the imagination.

Swimmer Phil Joyce

Soon we'll all be gay and happy as bay steers! Soon we'll wipe away the briny, flowing tears! If we're sorrowful we will lose 'em, for will permitteth each bosom, for the season is at hand for roasting ears! For the fancy French dishes I have jeans, and the Waldorf dish of fare EARS to me appears, like a thing that's out of fashion, for I have a perfect passion for the good old unassuming roasting ears! Oh, my parents bid farewell to griefs and fears, and my granny turns a somersault and cheers, when the corn is on the table and we all feel fit and able to devour about a ton of roasting ears! Nothing better can be found in all the spheres! It's a diet for the soldiers and the seers! And my joy's too great to utter when I spread a wad of butter on the fragrant and the temptin' roasting ears! Oh, the bards will greet this rhapsody with jeans and they'll sing about their roses down the years, but there's nothing more inspiring than the corn we all desire, nothing nobler than the juicy roasting ears!

THE FAIRY GODMOTHER
BY RUTH CAMDEN

I'm utterly disengaged. I've tried so hard to please him and I know he isn't satisfied.

So a young business woman bewailed to me the other day,

"Why so? Has he found fault with you?" I asked.

"No-o," she said slowly after a moment of brown-knitting retrospection. "I don't know that he has. But I don't believe he has said a word of praise for weeks and weeks. And I've tried so hard to do everything just as he wants it."

And then I quoted to her, and now take occasion to pass on to you—you, meaning all her brothers and sisters who feel discouraged because someone hasn't said a word of praise for so long in spite of their painstaking efforts to please—something which my first employer once said to me under similar circumstances.

He had praised something that I did and I said to him, "Oh, I am so glad you told me that. You haven't said you liked any of my work for weeks and weeks and I was expecting to be discharged almost any day."

"Miss Cameron," said the editor, "let me tell you something that will be good for you to keep in mind all your life. YOU CAN BE PRACTICALLY SURE THAT IF THE MAN YOU ARE WORKING FOR DOESN'T DO ANY KICKING, HE'S PRETTY NEAR SATISFIED. SILENCE WITH MOST EMPLOYERS MEANS CONTENT."

I can't tell you how much worry killer I've squandered out of that sentence since.

And I pass it on to you because the whole experience of my life has proven it true.

You think even if it is true, it isn't a proper state of affairs?

You think your employer ought to remember to praise as freely as he blames?

Quite so.

And yet, is he different from the rest of us human beings, who take our blessings in acquisitive silence, but remember to kick most vociferously about our troubles?

You see your successful satisfactory work is his blessing. Your mistakes and failures are his crosses.

His very silence is a sort of tribute to the habit you have gotten him into of expecting good work from you.

Of course there are some employers—as there are some men and women who take as much note of their blessings as of their crosses.

Unfortunately these are the exceptions.

So cheer up, little business woman and all your brothers and sisters in discouragement. If you are doing your best work, you haven't any reason to worry over lack of praise.

Just take it from me that with most employers, "silence means content" and "no comment is good comment."

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

It chanced that in the month of June, the month of blushing roses,

I saw a lot of men with clubs, all following their noses.

The day had dawned auspiciously, but soon the sky grew dark.

And rain was coming hummung when we reached Van Cortland Park.

I sat beside a sad-faced man, two golf sticks in his fist;

"Don't tip it off," he whispered. "I'm a golfing journalist!"

"By that I do not mean," quoth he, "that I'll report the game,

I mean that I'm a golfer, playing for my papers' fame."

"Delighted, sir, to meet you!" I exclaimed with one low tow;

"Please let me tote your bags; you won't need a caddie now."

And that is how I chanced to meet a golfer named McTeeg.

A member in good standing of the Journalistic League.

While he was waiting for his turn to whang one off the tee,

McTeeg, grew confidential and he up and says to me:

MANITOU DEPARTMENT

HACKMAN ARRESTED

J. C. Berry, a hackman, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by A. M. Daggett, special officer, charging him with delaying an officer in discharging his official duty.

It is said that Berry drove up in front of the Soda Springs entrance, near the hack stand, with an empty carriage for the purpose of soliciting. When ordered to move out of the way of the crowd, by Information Officer Daggett, he refused to do so. He was arrested by Marshal Woodward and the trial is not for 10 o'clock this morning in Justice Sawin's court.

Council Does Not Promise Absolutely to Employ Only Union Men on City Improvements.

Colorado Springs people will be asked to sign petitions referring to the people, under the referendum clause of the state constitution, the bill passed by the last legislature requiring at least six weeks' normal instruction for all teachers before they secure certificates. The bill, if it becomes law, will work a "fifidship" on Colorado College, and in fact, all institutions except the State Normal school at Greeley. The Springs institution, in the past, has practically been able to certify teachers on account of the high standard of the work here. Now comes this law, which requires an additional six, 12, or 18 weeks' normal attendance, depending on whether a third, second or first grade certificate is wanted.

At the head of the petition, which will be circulated here today, is the name of President Storum, Prof. J. V. Breitwieser of Colorado College and Homer McMillan, a senior in the institution, will be in direct charge of the work. Volunteers are wanted to assist.

"This is a vital thing to the college," said Prof. Breitwieser last night, "and the committee on legislation, consisting of Dean Parsons, Dean Cajor and myself, is using every endeavor to get at least 5,000 names on the petition here. The whole thing comes from the desire of the normal people to get control of the certification of teachers."

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Palmer hall, a meeting of the students of the summer school, all teachers interested and the Colorado College faculty and alumni, will be held to discuss the situation.

About eleven thousand names on the petition, which are being circulated all over the state, will act as an injunction on the law until the matter is decided at the next general election in 1912.

FAIR & FESTIVAL

"THE LOVE ROUTE"

is unlike anything ever seen on the stage. It is clean, pure and wholesome. Like "The Prince Chap," another play by the author of "The Love Route," this comedy drama has a strain of fancy which is like the fresh breath of mountain air. The plot is simple but well told and interesting. The scenes are picturesque and beautifully staged at the Opera House. The acting is in many respects the best. The Larch company has done its best.

"The Love Route" bids fair to be the most popular sight-seeing road in this vicinity. Theodore Lorch who personally conducts the excursions over this trip has scored one of the most pleasing successes of his career as the engineer. What is "The Love Route"? It is a delightful, charming comedy drama by Edward Reple, author of "The Prince Chap." "The Love Route" is being played at the Opera House this week by the Lorch Stock company.

"The Love Route" will be presented at the Opera House tonight, tomorrow afternoon and night and Thursday night for the "only" times. "All asks" will be given Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon for the first time in Colorado Springs.

Scenically, historically and dramatically "The Love Route" is unique. It has been severely criticized. Some people say it should not be allowed to be presented, while others whose word and opinion is equally as good, declare "The City" is an epoch-making drama in the annals of the American moral development. What do you say?

COL. LEWIS GINGER
MAJESTIC PERFORMER

The cut is out of the bag, and for the edification and information of those who have not already tumbled to the fact, let it be stated here and now, authoritatively, that "King Roast," the blackface stump speaker who is on the Majestic vaudeville program this week, is none other than Colonel Lewis Ginger, Civil war veteran, old-time minstrel, El Paso county and San Antonio man.

The greatest dramatic surprise of the year will be the production of "The City" at the Opera House next week.

"The City" was Clyde Fitch's last work. Some critics regard it as his greatest; others hold it less highly.

Critical opinion is divided as is always the case with a play of this sort. The City tells a story of real life in a broad, vital fashion. Its brutality has been severely criticized. Some people

Give Them Help and Many Colorado Springs People Will Be Happier.
"Throw Out the Lite Line"—

The kidney need help—
They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.

They're getting worse every minute.

Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Colorado Springs testimony proves their worth.

Mrs. E. N. Edcombe, 1724 Grant Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says:

"The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills in December, 1906, will hold good and at this time I had gladly re-endorse the remedy. I had kidney trouble and learning that Doan's Kidney Pills were effective in cases of this kind, I procured a supply at the Do. Y. Butcher Drug Co. Their beneficial effect fully justifies the praise I have given them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Mulvaney Co., Buffalo, New York; local agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

HARDY'S ART STORE
OPEN FOR BUSINESS

One of the most attractive art stores ever opened in this city is that of Cliff Hardy, which is now ready for business at 16 North Tejon street. The scheme of decoration is in ivory and light brown, and the decorations bear out the general effect of a well-lighted and cozy establishment. Navajo rugs cover the floor, and a vista of an art room, framed in the columns of the large doorway, presents a delightful appearance as one enters the shop.

Mr. Hardy will carry several special lines in his shop, among them being different varieties of chinaware and art pieces from the Craftwood shops in Manitou, which are under the supervision of the well-known art expert, R. L. Bentwell.

The store will be known as a book, stationery, and art shop; and Mr. Hardy's re-entrance into business after an absence of three years will be welcomed by all who delight in a well-lighted and up-to-date art shop.

OBITUARY

After many years of suffering, Mrs. Anne Katherine Daffner passed away at her home, July 7, at 8:30 a. m. The deceased was born in St. Louis in October, 1849, her maiden name being Miller. She January 15, 1868, at the age of 19, she became the wife of Valentine Daffner, a veteran of the Civil war, who passed away six years ago in this city. The deceased is survived by seven grown children, Mrs. L. Whitenack, Colorado City; Mrs. A. V. Doan, Laramie, Colo.; Mrs. A. V. Gilpin, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Miss Christine Daffner of this city; L. M. Daffner of San Francisco; A. H. Daffner of Folkston, Ga.; and J. J. Daffner of St. Louis. Deceased is survived also by one brother in St. Louis and by 11 grandchildren.

The funeral took place Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Leo Patterson officiating; the Young People's choir of the Hillside Congregational church rendering several selections. Beautiful floral tributes were sent by the local lodges, Women of Woodcraft and the Navajo Rebekahs. The G. A. R. post and the L. O. O. F. attended in a body.

Mrs. Daffner was a devoted wife and loving mother, one esteemed and loved by all who knew her. May those who mourn abide in the assurance that she still lives.

Beats them all, the new corn cure that corn-pestered people have been looking for ever since the age of shoes. Does it really do the work? Well, just one trial will prove it.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

	Bid.	Ask
NEW YORK	April 10.—Bradstreet's tomorrow, will say:
	Excellent early crop prospects, which buoy sentiment, sharply contrasted with disappointing trade distribution. Irregularities in industry and cautious buying for future account. Easter requirements have made for a turnover in trading apparel. Hardware business.
	While crop prospects, as well as indications of heavy planting, are such as to superinduce optimism, buying continues on the basis of immediate wants. At most centers ready-order houses are reported doing a thriving business.
	Reports from industrial centers present mixed aspects, resumption in this or that place being offset by slower operations at other points. The steel trade takes hope from crop prospects, but the volume of business is not up to expectations.

DUN'S REVIEW

	Bid.	Ask
NEW YORK	April 10.—Dun's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:
	Sentiment, especially in the agricultural regions, is strengthened by the splendid government report on winter wheat, and the outlook for an almost phenomenal crop is calculated to inspire greater confidence in the future. Reflecting the brilliant prospects, the leading cereals are receding in value; yet the purchasing power of the farming community should be enhanced if the present promise of a bountiful yield is fulfilled.
	The volume of railroad traffic will probably expand with an increased production of grain, and monetary conditions are such that no difficulty is likely to be experienced in harvesting and marketing the crops.
	Advices from leading centers are still somewhat irregular, with improvement in certain directions offset by reactionary tendency in others.
